Xen Tan Mousse, 118ml, £21.95

This was the first time I have used a mousse fake tan. The mousse was light with a pleasant scent and was easy to rub in to the skin. The product was oil-free and not at all sticky, yet it dried quickly and left my skin feeling smooth and hydrated. The tan isn't visible to start with and seems to develop over time. After one application, there wasn't really a noticeable change in colour, so I would recommend two coats for a stronger, more visible colour. Sophie Farage. For more details call 08456 529 521 or visit www.cultbeauty.co.uk

Green People, 200ml, £16.30

I loved that it was an organic product and you could really tell the difference in the fragrance – it was unlike other fake tans I have tried before. The colour was subtle on the initial application, which is great for first-timers, and by the second application I was really pleased with the outcome. No patches, no marks, no smell, perfect! Danielle Harvey. For details call 01430 740 350 or visit www.greenpeople.co.uk

Elemis Total Glow Self Tanning Cream, 125ml, £21

Having used many fake tan products over the years, this is my favourite so far. It glided on to my skin smoothly, dried quickly enough for me to jump into my PJs five minutes later, and gave a natural, noticeable colour that lasted for days. Plus, there was not a tell-tale streak in sight. Lisa Morgan. For stockist call 01278 727 830 or visit www.timetospa.co.uk

Olay Moisturiser with a touch of self tan, 100ml, £5.99

The moisturiser was easy to apply and dried clear quite quickly. It has a very delicate scent which was not overpowering. I noticed a difference after three to four applications, giving me an even glow. I think this product is good for an everyday user who is wary of using standard fake tan products. Vicky O'Connor. Available from Boots stores nationwide. Visit www.boots.com for more details.

Lavera Sun sensitive lotion, 150ml, £11.70

The Lavera fake tan is made from natural products. It is easy to apply and doesn't leave you gagging in the wake of the fake tan scent. But really, for me, these were its only attributes. Applied sparingly for the initial application – you never know the strength of colour of a new product – it provided a very subtle hue, applied more liberally it was a little too orange for my skin, and became patchy quickly. Emma Cant. For stockists call 01557 870 567 or visit www.lavera.co.uk
